

Human resources are SNIM's primary capital. The company is constantly seeking to improve the working and living conditions of its employees.

Health

SNIM has its own sanitation structure, including two healthcare polyclinics for its workers and their families. Both polyclinics provide all types of medical services, from consultations to surgery. In the workplace, a Health at Work Unit offers day-to-day medical services to workers.

Workers also benefit from sessions held by Mauritanian and foreign specialists in ophthalmology, ENT, cardiology, etc. Local populations also attend these sessions and use SNIM's sanitation infrastructures.

We also support the fight against pandemics such as AIDS, tuberculosis and malaria.
