

As the electrification of peripheral areas of the city, this project aims to expand the network of water supply to all parts of the city.